

LEROY GOMES of the Coast Guard arrived in Centerville last Friday for a 30-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Rose Harvey.

He was sent overseas 3 months after he joined the Navy and has been in the South Pacific for two years.

Expected home soon, enroute to the Pacific after 22 months duty in the Mediterranean Area with the 12th Air Force, is Sgt. ROBERT P. HUNT Jr., of Newark. This will be Sgt. Hunt's first furlough and first visit home since he entered the armed forces almost two and one-half years ago.

With the 43rd Infantry (Winged Victory) Division on Luzon, P. I. (Special to The Register)—Corporal JOHN E. SILVA, husband of Irene Silva, Kent Avenue, San Lorenzo, California (and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Silva of Niles, California), has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge for exemplary conduct displayed while in combat against the Japanese on Luzon Island in the Philippines.

Corporal Silva came overseas in June, 1944, and joined the 43rd "Winged Victory" Division in New Guinea. During 32 months overseas, the 43rd has participated in four campaigns: Guadalcanal, Northern Solomons, New Guinea, and Luzon.

An Aviation Engineer Base, Owina—(Special to The Register)—Private First Class CARL AGUNDEZ of Decoto, California, is a member of an Aviation Engineer Battalion which has been commended by the Okinawa United States Island Command for rehabilitating a captured airfield in the record time of five days.

Private Agundez's battalion improved 600,000 square feet of runway, developed enough parking areas to accommodate three Marine fighter squadrons and built a control tower, quonset huts and an aviation gasoline tank farm. The work was accomplished despite enemy air attacks and mortar, artillery and sniper fire.

Private Agundez's parent, Selza G. Agundez, lives at 412 Sixth Street, Decoto. His wife, the former Helenmae Gallard, lives at West Second Street, Santa Ana, California.

Headquarters, AAF Engineer Command in Italy.—(Special to The Register)—Pfc. Clarence C. Johnson of Niles, Calif., a driver with headquarters Company of the AAF Engineer Command in the Mediterranean Theatre, was authorized to wear the Meritorious Service Unit Insignia when his unit was awarded a plaque for performance of outstanding services.

During the period between November, 1944, and March, 1945, for which the award was made, the unit performed consistently excellent and faithful service in its work of supervising the construction by aviation engineer units in the Theatre of bases for the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces. At times faced with personnel shortages, the company nevertheless fulfilled its assigned mission, assuring construction units in the field of a steady flow of supplies, smooth processing of administrative records, and thus facilitating the construction of Allied air bases.

A veteran of 30 months overseas, Pfc. Johnson wears three battle participation stars on his European Campaign Ribbon.

With the 24th Infantry (Victory) Division on Mindanao.—(Special to The Register)—Private First Class MEDFORD F. WOOD (husband of Mrs. Doyce Wood of Route No. 1, Niles Calif.) and his machine gun section of this Victory Division's veteran 34th Infantry Regiment, surprised and killed forty-eight Japs from a roadside ambush, far behind the enemy lines in the Davao area.

After a two-day march with a strong infantry force, the section set up its guns just as darkness fell, and waited.

Before the positions were completed, members of the section, concealed in jungle grass, spotted eight Japs coming nonchalantly toward them. Crossfire bursts from the guns killed them all.

Four hours later, forty more Japs, loaded with mortars, ammunition and machine guns, with empty five-gallon cans clanking at their sides, came marching down the road.

One of the squad leaders heard them and opened up on the Japs with his rifle. At a range of 30 yards, two heavy .30 caliber machine guns caught them in a cross-fire and sent them sprawling in a welter of blood.

Two wounded Japs groaned most of the night. The officer in charge, himself wounded, gave orders to the Japs, but finding his efforts unavailing, committed hari-kari.

MAKE A DATE TO GIVE BLOOD NEXT FRIDAY

According to Thomas Nickel of the Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley, whom The Register interviewed this week, the need of whole blood and plasma will become increasingly greater as the tempo of war in the Pacific increases.

Next Friday, July 13, you will again have a chance to give a pint of blood, when the mobile unit comes to the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles. Whether you are Type O (universal type) or if you give blood for plasma makes no difference. Your blood is badly needed.

Contact your town chairman, listed below, and make an appointment immediately for next Friday. Town chairmen are:

Warm Springs, Mrs. Rose Brown Mission San Jose, Mrs. Lois Justus Centerville, Mrs. Val Tuchsens; Newark, Mrs. Julia Harris Decoto, Bernie Joseph and Mrs. Alma Seales Alvarado, Mrs. Blake Hill Irvington, Mrs. C. WATER, LIGHTS DISCUSSED AT DECOTO CHAMBER MEET

Discussion of committee reports held the interest of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce members last Tuesday night at the Decoto Fire House.

The members investigated the water and light situation and the proposed memorial to be dedicated in Decoto was thoroughly discussed.

THESE GAVE THEIR BLOOD. WILL YOU? MRS. ANNETTE FRACOLI was the first one at her last blood procurement day to be classified as having type O blood. Though she has a full-time job, she is never too busy to give a pint of blood. Blood donor day is next Friday. GEORGE MAYS, superintendent of the California Pottery, was another who usually signs up as a donor. DON'T FORGET NEXT FRIDAY!

WATCH REPAIR SHOP TO OPEN HERE

Hardly a week goes by in Niles, it seems, but what a new business or the promise of one, comes to light.

This week, M. A. McDermott, ex-service man, announced that he has rented a window in the Niles Furniture Company for a watch repair and jewelry shop, with opening set tentatively for some time in the next two weeks.

McDermott first discovered Niles and its possibilities while stationed with the Sea Bees at Camp Parks. (His home is in Colorado.) While at Camp Parks he moved his family to a house on the Mission Road. After receiving his discharge from the service, he decided that he liked it around here so well, that he wanted to make it his permanent home. Hence his desire to start a business here.

LOCAL GENETICIST BUYS POULTRY FARM

Arthur Heisdorf returned to Niles this week from a business trip to Washington, where he purchased a poultry breeding farm located in Kirkland, a 20-minute drive from Seattle.

He will operate the farm on a hatchery breeding basis and will sell the baby chicks. The farm has a capacity for 8000 hens. He and Mrs. Heisdorf will leave for Kirkland about August 15 to take over the business.

Heisdorf is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where he majored in poultry and genetics. He also did graduate work at Iowa State College in genetics.

He has held a position as geneticist at the Kimber Poultry Breeding Farm in Niles for 9 years.

HERO'S FATHER RECEIVES SON'S AWARDS THURSDAY

The bronze star for bravery was awarded posthumously last night at the presidio in San Francisco to M. J. Bernardo of Centerville for his son, S/Sgt. Stanley E. Bernardo, by the commanding officer of the 19th Infantry Division.

The citation accompanying the award read: "For meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy during the period between December 21, 1944, and March 1945."

Mr. and Mrs. Bernardo were informed of the death of their son on March 21, 1945. The letter stated that he had been killed in a small town in Germany while advancing with his rifle company. The objective was taken shortly after he had been killed by mortar fire. Prior to his death he had been wounded in Germany and had been awarded the Purple Heart.

Another son, T/Sgt. Joseph J. Bernardo, died of dysentery July 11, in Cabanatuan, the Japanese prison camp on Luzon in the Philippines. He had survived the infamous March of Death.

ANTHONY MACIEL RECEIVES BACHELOR SCIENCE DEGREE

Four hundred and fifty-nine degrees were conferred by the University of Texas in the sixty-second commencement exercise, held June 24. Anthony Maciel Jr., of Niles, was one of those receiving a degree as Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering.

NILES TEACHERS GET PAY RAISE

The Niles Elementary School board of trustees, meeting last Monday, voted a $20 a month raise in salary for the teachers, the raise going into effect July 1.

The salaries, with the raise, now range from $180 to $200 a month, dependent upon the length of service.

Also at the meeting, Joe Gomes was elected clerk for the third successive year.

LOGAN NAMED HEAD OF HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES

A. K. Logan was elected new president of the High School board of trustees at a meeting held July 1. Mr. Logan succeeds Mr. Overacker who served as president last year but who was forced to retire from the board because of illness.

H. F. Harold was re-elected clerk. Those serving on committees are A. E. Alameda and F. G. Scott on the finance committee, and Ed Enos on the salary committee.

Further business that was taken up at another meeting on July 3, was the announcement that Mrs. Josephine Morris, homemaking instructor, had resigned from the faculty. No one has been secured to date to fill the vacancy.

School tax rates for the year 1945-46 have been set at 40 cents, slightly higher than that of the last fiscal year. The operational budget, including all savings, at $244,000.

FARM LOANS TO BE SPEEDED UP

Carl Kober, secretary-treasurer of the Alameda-Contra Costa National Farm Loan Association, received word that President Truman has signed the bill passed by Congress which increases the powers of the association and speeds up the granting of loans to farmers and stockmen. Under the new law, the association may lend up to 65 per cent of the normal agricultural value of the farm. In the past a loan was limited to 50 per cent of the appraised normal value of the land plus 20 per cent of the permanent improvements.

The authority to continue making Commissioner loans is extended to July 1, 1946. The contract interest rate on these loans is five per cent while the contract rate for land bank loans remains at the present all-time low of four per cent.

Secretary-Treasurer Kober said that many Commissioner loans have been repaid and that others have been reduced so that they can now be refinanced with four per cent land bank notes. "This," he said, "is of benefit to many borrowers for it reduces their interest rate and consolidates their loans."

FORMER NILES SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS PROMOTED

Vaughn D. Seidel, county superintendent of schools, this week announced a change in the organization of his office and the promotion of two staff members, James L. Bunker and F. Nelson Vassallo.

Due to the increased activities in the educational field, which is solely supported by state funds and which embraces rural classroom supervision, curriculum, speech correction, safety education, attendance and child welfare, and nursing service, James L. Bunker, former chief deputy, has been elevated to the position of his administrative assistant.

Bunker has held various positions of responsibility in the county superintendents office since 1922. Prior to that time he was principal of Newark and Niles schools, having come to Alameda County in 1912 from Placer County where he also served as principal.

EAGLES DANCE IS BIG SUCCESS

The Eagles Dance held at the Swiss Park last Tuesday night, proved to be a gay and entertaining affair, as well as a profitable one for Uncle Sam, for $13,880 in bonds were sold as the price of admission.

Jack Holland, chairman, wishes to extend his thanks to all of those who helped make the affair a success.

PRYOR COMES UP FOR HEARING TODAY IN NILES

The lurid paper-back western thrillers that you see on news-stands have nothing in the way of thrills between their covers that Niles can't supply.

Last Friday in the Niles Recreation Center a regular roarin'-tootin' wild-west shooting brawl took place, climaxed when Thomas Pryor, proprietor of the pool hall, fired four shots at Arthur Jacobsen in an argument over some poker chips.

Pryor landed in the county jail and Jacobsen in the Fairmont Hospital. Jacobsen has been transferred to Highland Hospital and Pryor—alas—is still in jail.

This afternoon (Friday) in the Niles Justice Court, Pryor will be arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The argument started around midnight when Jacobsen was cashing in his chips after a poker game. Payment for one 25-cent chip was reportedly withheld since Jacobsen had not paid this amount for "time" in the game. When Pryor pressed the point Jacobsen, it is reported, became increasingly threatening and finally—in true bar-room fashion—took after Pryor with a metal bar stool.

Pryor fought him off with a billiard cue and then grabbed a .22 caliber automatic pistol, fired a couple of warning shots at the floor in front of Jacobsen, and, when Jacobsen kept coming at him, fired two more shots, one striking the ankle and one hitting just above the heart.

The sheriff's office was summoned and the two men were deposited in jail and hospital, respectively. For a few days Jacobsen's life was said to be in danger.

MARJORIE JACKSON RESIGNS FROM RATION BOARD

Bernadette Martin of Newark started work Monday as a clerk with the ration board in Niles. She replaced Marjorie Jackson, who resigned last week to work for her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Fournier, in her new restaurant, Bea's Waffle Shop, on Main Street in Niles.

Miss Jackson left last Sunday morning for a two-weeks vacation in Seattle with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Jackson. She had worked for the ration board since October 15, 1944.

Sensational New WEED KILLER

WEED-TOX 2-4-D KILLS

Morning Glory
Dandelions in lawns
(Does not hurt the lawn)
Poison Oak
Ragweed
Canada Thistle
Horse Nettle

This is what TIME Magazine has to say about this miraculous weed killer:

"... last week news of a sensational new weed killer which may eclipse all of these, was spreading rapidly among U. S. farmers and suburbanites. It is a synthetic hormone called 2-4-D (one gallon of WEED-TOX to 100 gallons of water when sprayed on leaves, kills the toughest U. S. weed—the perennial wild morning glory). It is HARMLESS TO ANIMALS, does NOT CORRODE SPRAYERS or does NOT REDUCE THE FERTILITY OF THE SOIL."

DECOTO NEWS

By ELSA WALKER

The Decoto Discussion Group chose Linda Vista Park at Mission San Jose for its outdoor meeting of the year on Thursday, June 28. A delicious picnic lunch, the highlight of which was friend chicken, most generously contributed by a recently acquired member, Mrs. Della Park, was enjoyed by all.

After an informal discussion of plans for the next year's work, the leader, Mrs. Florence Wallace, took up the discussion of the book, "The Razor's Edge," by Somerset Maugham. This book lends itself to a spirited discussion with its seeming flaws in construction, the mystic spirituality of Larry contrasted with the grossness and materialism of his associates, and most of all the purpose of the author in writing the book and his own views on religion were splendid material for a brisk interchange of views.

The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Amy Brown. The subject is drama, and

REGULAR MEETING TONIGHT FOR REBEKAHS

The Niles Rebekah Lodge will meet tonight at the Odd Fellows Hall in Niles for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Williams and Mrs. Sarah Crane will have charge of refreshments.

The leader, Miss Anna Mae Escobar, has chosen "The Corn Is Green" and "Harriet" for discussion. The morality play, "Everyman," will be read if time permits.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, formerly of Decoto, will be interested to learn of the arrival of Howard Herbert early in the morning of July 2. All concerned are doing nicely, including the proud father.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Avilla are enjoying a week-end visit with a friend, Mrs. Lou Kendall of San Francisco.

MAN WORKS ALL DAY IN A SEA OF BLOOD

How would you like to be surrounded by a sea of blood, sometimes as many as 18 hours a day for five days a week? Sounds rather gory, doesn't it?

Well, it's just one of those things you get used to. "In fact," says Thomas Nickel, who works at the Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley where blood is processed for plasma, "if there was any less blood you'd begin to get worried."

Mr. Nickel, with his wife and four children, has just moved to the E. H. Frick ranch between Irvington and Warm Springs from Berkeley. His is one of the most interesting jobs in the world.

Mr. Nickel has had the unique experience of being a blood donor, and coming right back and processing his own blood! All the while he is working with the blood, helping with the processing, so that it can be carried by plane to the broad expanses of the Pacific, he knows that with his special skill, he is helping to save the lives of our fighting men.

"Oh course," says Mr. Nickel, with great emphasis, "we must first have the blood! Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley is the only place west of the Mississippi where blood is processed. Therefore, it is up to us Westerners to see that the supply keeps coming."

"Some people have the mistaken idea," continued Mr. Nickel, "that one pint of blood saves a life. Quite often one pint of blood does save a life; but, on the other hand, in severe wounds it may take as many as eight pints! Thousands of boys would die after battle, of shock, if it wasn't for plasma. In no other way could their lives be saved."

In case you're interested in what happens to your blood after you've given it, the following description will enlighten you: It is rushed up to the laboratories, where it is immediately typed and tested for impurities. (All the workers wear surgical gowns and masks.) Then it is stored temporarily in a cold room, thence to the centrifugal vats where the red cells are removed, and the fibrin taken out. Then into what is called the "shelling" room, where it is put into bottles. The bottles are subsequently run through a freezing solution, and rushed to refrigerated planes and on their life-saving way to Okinawa or wherever the need is greatest.

The Cutter Laboratories take care of whole blood, too. It is shipped out every day by plane. The planes that carry out the blood, bring back wounded soldiers; they might thus be called mercy planes.

"We, in the Cutter Laboratories," said Mr. Nickel, "would like to quit our jobs and get started in post-war work. But none of us would have the heart to leave now. The need for blood is just beginning. With the probable invasion of Japan, more and more blood should be coming in."

"As long as the people continue to give blood, we will remain here to process it."

After the war, Mr. Nickel hopes to return to Springfield, Mo., where he owns a publishing business and two farms.

It's the most amazing world! The scientists are taking all of our worries away from us. The latest thing is a weed eradicator. Imagine! going out and spraying your weeds instead of digging them! Poof! and your weeds are gone, even dandelions in your lawn!

What with the other miraculous things promised for the post-war world, there won't be anything left for the householder to do, in the way of work. In that event, let's hope the scientists also figure out ways of entertainment for those spare hours. There's an old bromide about mischief and idle hands—

WHY ARE NEWSPAPERS LIKE WOMEN? Because — they have forms; back numbers are not in demand; they always have the last word; they are well worth looking over; they have a great deal of influence; you can't believe everything they say; there's small demand for the bold-faced type; they're much thinner than before. Every man should have one and not borrow his neighbor's.—From "This Month."

LOCALITES TAKE PART IN PARTY AT SHOEMAKER

Township organizations combined talents last Wednesday to add to the Family Day celebration at Shoemaker Hospital. The annual event occurs each Fourth of July when Shoemaker holds open-house for families and friends of the service men. Last Wednesday the patients and their guests enjoyed races, baseball and an evening dance.

The Business and Professional Women's Club, the Y.L.L. and the Grey Ladies helped to sponsor their own wards and supplied refreshments and entertainment to others.

The list of volunteers included Celeste Bunker, Rose Vieux, Betty Rose, Viola Dias and Mary Regan of Niles. Centerville helpers were Martha Ferraris, Lorraine Furtado, and Gloria Furtado.

May Nunes, Caroline Perry and Mrs. Clarence Crane were among the Grey Ladies present.

Serving as a volunteer was Mrs. Irene Kibby of Niles, who drove one of the station wagons.

Presbyterian News

"Christian Hospitality" will be the sermon topic next Sunday morning at the Centerville and Newark Churches.

Two proof texts will be used by Mr. James Brown, "Use Hospitality One to Another" and "Be Not Forgetful to Entertain Strangers for Thereby Some May Be Entertained Angels."

Sunday School follows the Newark service. The goal of "75 in '45" is coming very near.

MUSIC AND MAGIC SHOW STAGED FOR SHOEMAKER BOYS

Music, magic and ventriloquism were furnished last Friday by the De Guadalupe Institute, Y.L.L., for the entertainment of Ward A-9 at Shoemaker Hospital.

Ben Olsen of the sheriff's office performed fetes of magic, George Holeman of Oakland was the ventriloquist, and the Washington Union High School orchestra played under the baton of Andy Gordetto of Alvarado.

Miss Celeste Bunker of Niles was program chairman and Mrs. Frances Mara of Niles had charge of refreshments.

The committee included Susan DiGiulio, Mrs. Clarence Crane, Jacqueline Lewis of Niles and Mrs. A. L. Costa of Decoto.

Mrs. Sophie Quartaroli of Niles, motor corps driver, assisted with arrangements and helped the members serve refreshments.

Industry Moving Westward

America's industrial compass is pointing steadily in one direction—westward!

No less an authority on economic "navigation" than Mr. William J. Baxter, head of the International Economic Research Bureau, has, in effect, made this declaration. He predicts that the Nation's industrial center is destined to shift from Chicago to the Pacific Coast.

In support of his forecast he cites the tremendous increase in America's Asiatic trade during the past four decades as compared to the moderate rise in our commerce with Europe during the same period.

Undoubtedly our Pacific trade in the years ahead will play an important part in drawing the country's industry westward. But this will be but one factor among several which we think will contribute to the eventual industrial dominance of the West.

The great population increase in recent years has expanded the purchasing power of the Pacific Coast area, especially California, and is causing many manufacturers to set up production plants out here so as to be close to the Western market. The ample supply of electric power will encourage increased industrial activity as will the abundant financial resources which statewide branch banking has made available for business in large and small California communities. Then, too, the mild climate which permits unhampered year-round production and transportation should not be minimized.

These and other advantages enjoyed by the West should make Mr. Baxter's prediction a reality before many years have passed.

World Charter

"Oh! What a great day this can be in history," declared President Truman when the United Nations' Charter was signed in San Francisco.

Yes, June 26, 1945, can be a great day in history and it will be if the nations insist on making the Charter a vital, living document.

That Charter as it now stands is little more than a collection of ideas which have survived the hammering on the anvil of debate and compromise and have been set forth in language both lofty and simple.

Drafting the Charter was not easy. It required nine weeks of toil. It called forth the utmost in patience and statesmanship among delegates.

Yet drafting it was simple as compared to the task of making it work. This task will demand tolerance among nations and a degree of cooperation greater than any ever yet manifested in the modern world.

But these should be achieved. The turmoil and suffering which war has inflicted upon humanity twice in this generation have brought men to the realization that they must work together in the peaceful solution of their problems and differences or civilization will not survive.

There can be little doubt that the Charter will be speedily and overwhelmingly approved by the United States Senate. This action alone will give the United Nations Organization a strength which the old League of Nations never enjoyed since we chose to snub the League in 1919.

For the sake of all mankind let us pray that the nations by their actions will make the Charter a living document whereby all men can live in peace instead of die in war.

MISSION SAN JOSE

LOIS JUSTUS, Correspondent

On Sunday, July 1, the Matson Doughnut Company of the East Bay held a very lively picnic at Linda Vista Park. The crowd began to gather early and due to the very hot day the swimming pool was alive with bathers. Baseball games and other contests helped to hold the interest of the public. There was a great deal of fun had by those who liked to dance and some others enjoyed the concessions. The picnic ground has been having a very busy season so far for the Navy from Alameda, Shoemaker and Camp Parks have been using it continuously for several weeks. It is a good place to come and relax and have "back to nature" fun.

George Rodrigues, A/S 1, and Fred J. Potter, S/1, from Shoemaker spent the week-end here at the home of George's family. They are expecting to "shove off" momentarily. Mr. Potter's wife lives in New Mexico.

Thomas Cunha and son Elmo "Cappy," returned from a trip to Chester, California, one day last week, and Mrs. Cunha and daughter, Shirley, and her mother, Mrs. Hortense Andrade, went to Santa Cruz to spend a few days following the return of the men of the family.

Pvt. William Santos visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Santos and family, during the week. Bill has been in infantry training at Camp Roberts and is awaiting further assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Solon were host and hostess to a number of their friends on Monday evening at a delicious bar-b-q at their home here in the Mission.

It seems the Mission has been having a tonsillectomy contest or something to that effect for all three of the William Fernandez children, Nadine, Marlene and William "Sonny," were hospitalized this past week. All are out and eating their parents out of house and home.

Miss Rosemary Telles, her mother, Rose Telles, and a friend, Miss Arlene McNefar, are vacationing at Modesto at the home of Mrs. Telles' sister, Mrs. Kahn.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Telles, the former Miss Irene Steffanoni of Niles, have moved to Irvington where they expect to make their future home.

Lawrence Rogers Sr., who has been convalescing at the Livermore Sanitarium, has returned to his home here much improved.

Miss Marjorie Caldwell left Tuesday for the south to be with her father at Inglewood, California. He has had a heart attack and is very poorly. Miss Caldwell is the daughter of Mrs. Odessa DeMotte of the Mission. She does not know how long she will remain in the south.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

California farm organizations, in the closing days of the 1945 State Legislature, won their most important victory of the session with final passage of S. B. 615, by Senator Sutton, which would incorporate an equitable, clear-cut definition of "agricultural labor" in the Unemployment Insurance Act.

This bill, as enacted, would exempt all types of farm labor from the Unemployment Insurance Act which are exempt in other states under the Federal definition, except for workers in dried fruit and dried vegetable packing plants.

The legislation is vitally necessary not only to end the needless confusion which has resulted from lack of a sound and workable definition of farm labor in this state, but also to protect California's farming industry from being required to carry a discriminatory tax overhead not imposed on competing farmers in other states.

There is still great danger, however, that the fight will be lost in the final round, as Governor Warren has not yet signed the bill—and it is reported that the CIO political action committee, with the aid of other pressure groups, is planning to flood the Governor with thousands of letters demanding that it be vetoed.

California agriculture certainly cannot afford to ignore that challenge—and this is an urgent S.O.S. to every farmer who is sincerely interested in protecting his industry to write Governor Warren asking that the farming industry in this state be treated fairly and that this bill, S. B. 615, be given his signature.

This is the second time that the Legislature has enacted this legislation and this time it is imperative that it not be cast aside by executive veto. Two years ago Governor Warren vetoed a similar bill, passed by the 1943 Legislature, stating that he was doing so in order that the California Employment Stabilization Commission might not be hampered in thoroughly reviewing the situation and determining what needed to be done. The same argument certion Commission when it adopted its new definition of farm labor on May 16 of this year—a definition which proved wholly unsatisfactory to the farming industry—said that it had no authority to go further, but that the Legislature could take further remedial action if it deemed it necessary.

The Legislature, in passing S. B. 615, after weeks of debate and exhaustive hearings, decided for the second time that California farmers are entitled to substantially the same exemptions under the Unemployment Insurance Tax granted farmers in other states by means of the Federal definition.

It is difficult to see how there can be any sound objection to that principle, for in the post-war market, with highly competitive conditions which are bound to exist, California farmers cannot afford to carry any discriminatory tax load not imposed on farmers in other areas, if they are to be able to find buyers for their commodities.

California farmers are not opposed to having their farm workers brought under the terms of the Unemployment Insurance Act if similar farm workers in other states are likewise made subject to the act on a uniform basis. That point should be made crystal clear. But they are opposed to being singled out to carry an unemployment tax not borne by their competitors in other states—simply because that kind of discrimination is unjust and will play havoc with the state's farm economy.

Farmers in this state already must compete under the handicap of being further from their markets than most of the other farmers in the nation, which results in heavier freight costs. California farmers, too, pay the highest farm wages in the entire country—and must absorb that extra cost and still be able to sell their products at a somewhat comparable price with farm produce from other sections. But they can't afford to have their state government add to their burden by forcing them to pay a tax not paid by farmers in other states.

NEW ICE CREAM RECIPE SHOWN

A new recipe for home made ice cream was demonstrated by Mrs. Maryetta Holman for the Alvarado Farm Home Department Thursday, June 28, at the home of Mrs. Rita Olivera.

More than a gallon of ice cream was made for the guests with the new method which uses syrup rather than sugar.

The members made plans for their annual picnic on August 8, at Alum Rock Park.

Mrs. Olivera supplied cherry pie and cookies with the ice cream for the 21 members and their guest.

Wining and Dining

By ROBERT MAYOCK

Just in case there are still a few people who believe that the peace problem can be solved by the signing of a document, I am herewith going on record as saying that it is much easier and inexpensive to eat your way to peace than to sign up for it. For the gentle dove of peace is a simple bird who cannot read or write. So what's the use of all that penmanship? But she can be wooed with food; and the United Nations' Conference at San Francisco has amply proved that fact. I will venture to say that more advancement has been made toward understanding and world accord across the banquet tables at San Francisco than across the conference tables.

How can you warm a man up by alluding to him as "the Delegate from Russia?" But when you can shout at him "easy on that vodka, Ivan"—as a diplomat, you've arrived!

I don't mean to imply that any of the real charter provisions have been written on table cloths, but I do mean to say that the personal understandings were achieved and all of the "leather-vests" were torn off at festive boards with the help of food and good bottles of wine. And that is exactly the formula by which the peace can be maintained throughout the years. For we will have to make the keeping of the peace our daily business from now on just the way we conduct our own daily affairs. Customers are not kept by the man who busies himself in his back office and leaves his future to chance or to the ministrations of indifferent clerks. He has to be out on the firing line every day or on the billboards or in the newspapers.

America and England and Russia and the 47 other nations will have to be keeping their contacts with each other every week of every year, if peace is to be earned and preserved. It will entail constant and sustained effort.

Nobody slugs his friends around in daily life and no country is going to start swinging on a neighbor he knows and likes. But he will have to know that neighbor intimately and he will have to like him. So the future of diplomacy is simply a matter of getting acquainted with our neighbors in this family of nations; and the matter of learning to like our neighbors is merely a matter of learning to like their cooking.

If you've eaten a man's bread you will hesitate to be tough with him about anything whatsoever. And if he has chewed your steaks and sang songs in your patio with a glass of good red wine in his hand, he won't be very hard to deal with when some little misunderstanding occurs.

But where can we find these trenchermen and these knife and fork diplomats? Oh, that's too easy; for here I am ready and willing to eat Argentina or Russia out of house and home. I've been entertaining for years and I know right where I can lay my hands on a competent staff.

How do I know it will work?

In these days the homemaker is faced with the problem of making a limited meat supply go as far as possible in providing appetizing dishes for the family meals. Many ideas have been worked out to help solve this problem. The above table shows easy and practical methods for extending four different cuts of lamb—ground lamb, lamb shank, lamb breast, and lamb shoulder. Other lamb cuts may be similarly utilized, and various cuts of beef and pork offer still further possibilities.

Why only last Sunday I found out that I don't hate Argentina. Anselmo Viacava, economic adviser to the Argentine delegation, was here at Los Amigos for a barbecue. He knows all about meats and wines. Why he even knows American songs and when Congressman Rabout broke forth into song, our Argentine was in there pitching with the rest of us. You can't hate a man who is like that, and such a contact would certainly make me pause before I grabbed a gun and began spouting about such abstractions as national honor or communist infiltration! I'm confident that I can "slam-down" any kind of "infiltration" with my turkey livers and bacon en brochette; and if you'll give me 200 red points and a bucket of chili-beans I'll pacify the world.

Turkey declared war on Germany in February, 1945.

TOMATOES AND OTHER PRODUCE FLOWN TO EAST

The largest shipment of perishable farm products ever carried by commercial cargo plane in the United States took off here Wednesday for the East from Salinas.

Carrying a load of 18,500 pounds—more than nine tons—a giant new four-motored Consolidated Vultee air freighter arrived in Cleveland early Thursday morning with fruits and vegetables which were 2,400 miles away in California fields and orchards only the day before.

This was the inaugural flight of a four-way experiment to determine the exact answers to air-borne shipment of fruits and vegetables. Participating are Ralph E. Myers of Salinas, one of the nation's largest growers; American Airlines, which will act as operator of the plane; Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, which built the experimental sky-freighter, and Standard Oil Company of California, which will fuel the flights with 100 octane gasoline.

Included in the cargo were 2,000 pounds of strawberries, 4,500 pounds of lettuce, 4,000 pounds of tomatoes, and 3,000 pounds of peaches, nectarines, apricots and plums. They are consigned to Fisher Brothers Company of Cleveland, which has 221 retail outlets.

The air freighter, designated as Model 39, has a length of 90 feet and a wing spread of 110 feet, with a fuselage diameter of 10 1/2 feet. Many of the famous Liberator Bomber-type components were used in its design, including wing and landing gear. The fuselage has a 15-inch clearance from the ground, which facilitates direct loading from trucks through two 6-foot by 6-foot doors. Operating at a gross weight of 62,600 pounds, the plane carries a payload of approximately 18,500 pounds. Four Pratt and Whitney 1,350 horsepower engines are used to give a cruising speed of 200 miles per hour. The standard air cargo plane now in general use in the United States has a payload of 7,000 pounds.

"SACRAMENT" IS SUBJECT FOR CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

"As often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come" (I Cor. 11:26). This verse is the golden text for the Christian Science lesson-sermon on "Sacrament" to be read Sunday, July 8.

The following citation is taken from Matt.: "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body."

CHINESE PARTY

J. E. Nihill, Miss Phyllis Owen, Miss Leontine Rose, Mrs. Gladys Williamson, Miss Margaret Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dixon Bristow and daughter, Miss Mary Virginia, and their nephew, Louis Havey, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shinn Jr. and Mrs. Joseph Shinn, Sr., all of Niles; and Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Gool of Centerville.

The banquet dishes were then served—shark fin soup, roast squab, roast duck, prawns in curry sauce, fish aspic and stuffed chicken (the whole chicken, head attached).

Most of the occasional guests stared curiously at each of the delicacies before hazarding a taste, and finished by praising them emphatically.

During the dinner the bride, followed by her mother and the sisters of the groom, stopped at each table to be toasted with Chinese tea.

The bride wore a black, ornately decorated mandarin coat over a vivid pink gown. With the exception of her mother, her entire entourage wore oriental costumes.

The groom, wearing a tuxedo, was also toasted at each of the tables and was accompanied by his father and the bride's brother, Joseph.

Until her arrival at the banquet table, during the speeches, the bride had remained in a small ante-room in accordance with Chinese custom. It was explained to guests that all of the Chinese beliefs had been followed religiously.

ARMED FORCES

It was pitch dark. Rain was pouring down in torrents and every rustle of the foliage seemed to presage a Jap attack. The machine guns sprayed the area intermittently and the jumpy men tossed hand grenades into the night, not six feet from their emplacements, at the slightest sound.

TOYON BRANCH CONTRIBUTES TO POLIO NEEDS

A grant of $24,000 in March of Dimes funds has been made to the Children's Hospital of the East Bay by the Alameda County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dan Marovich, chairman of the polio group, revealed today.

The announcement came as all members of the Children's Hospital Association, including Toyon Branch, pushed their campaign for capital funds to permit immediate construction of a $400,000 hospital addition.

Funds from the polio group will be used to purchase equipment for the 65-bed addition, Marovich revealed. First grant made to an East Bay hospital, the gift was approved by Basil O'Connor, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"In supporting the expansion program of Children's Hospital, we are serving the community by assuring it adequate facilities for care of infantile paralysis victims in the event of an epidemic," Marovich said. A total of 32 polio cases were cared for at Children's Hospital during the 1934 epidemic reports show.

The hospital addition will be equipped so that patients can be isolated when necessary, Mrs. J. R. Whipple, chairman of Toyon Branch, said today. Equipment will include that needed for preparation of Kenny packs, and two Hubbard tanks for underwater physiotherapy treatment of post-polio cases.

Organized in 1933, the Alameda County polio group receives support from the community through the annual March of Dimes. George Tubbs of Livermore represents the group in Southern Alameda County.

Fifty percent of funds collected locally are turned over to the National Foundation for medical research. Funds are used locally to provide hospitalization and treatment for polio cases; home physiotherapy treatments for post-polio cases; train-droppers and nurses in the Kenny method, and to provide surgical equipment, braces, wheel chairs and orthopedic shoes for polio cases.

The Alameda County Chapter of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation serves the entire county from offices at 1015 Warfield Avenue, Oakland. Information on aid offered to polio cases may be obtained by writing Mrs. Mary Black, assistant secretary, at that address.

OPENING FRUIT JARS EASY WHEN YOU KNOW HOW

So you can't get 'em open? Well maybe you thought that circular with the jars was advertising matter and threw it away without reading. Don't worry, we will tell you too, because chances are that part of the trouble with opening is due to failure to follow instructions for sealing. Surely you know about sterilizing everything, leaving plenty of head space, and having the rubbers wet. So we will skip that part.

There are two types of home canning jars, and all have a trade name lettered in the side. The ones with screw-thread necks are Masons. Those with glass lids held in place with wire bail are lightning type or Ideals.

When sealing a Mason jar with zinc cap, place a rubber flat on the sealing surface (you may call it shoulder or ledge), screw the zinc cap down tight, then turn it back about half an inch. This is done to prevent steam forcing the rubber out of place or causing the cap to bulge. The cap is screwed tight as soon as the jar is taken out of the canner.

Use Pliers to Open Jar
The easiest way to get the jar open is to use pliers to pull the rubber out. Small dime store pliers are best for this because friend husband won't be tempted to borrow them when he has to fix the fence. If you have no pliers, the next best way is to run the sharp point of a knife under (not over) the rubber, wiggle the knife sideways (not up and down), then unscrew the cap. If you can't manage this, turn the jar upside down in hot water for five minutes before unscrewing.

When sealing Mason jars with Glass Top Seal Caps, put the rubber flat around the rim on the under side (top side has the name on it) of the lid, then place the lid so the rubber lies flat between the top of the jar and the lid. Screw the metal band tight and then loosen by turning it back one-fourth turn. This band must be loose while the jars are in the canner. (Failure to keep this in mind has caused a lot of painful burns.) They are tightened after processing. The metal bands should be taken off the jars the next day after the canning is done. Yes, if the manufacturer's instructions are followed, the jars will stay sealed without the bands. When ready to open, run the sharp point of a knife between the top of the jar and the rubber. Move knife sideways as moving it up and down is likely to damage both jar and lid.

Opening Vacuum Seals
When using Mason jars with vacuum seals, place the lid white side down so that the sealing compound rests on top of the jar. Screw the metal band tight as it will go with ordinary hand pressure and leave it that way until the next day. Then take it off and leave it off. No, you don't tighten the band again after processing. Metal lids, especially those which are slightly rounded or domed, are flexible. The compound is softer than a jar rubber. The flexible lid and soft compound permit steam and air to seep out during processing. That's why the bands need not be tightened again. When ready to open the jar, flip the lid off with a bottle opener, or punch a hole in it and pry it off. The hole is all right because vacuum seal lids should never be used a second time. When using a lightning type or Ideal jar, put the rubber flat on the sealing surface. Keep the lip out of the way of the wires. Place the lid so that it rests on the rubber. Then pull or push the long wire up until it fits in the groove on top of the lid. Leave the short wire up while the jar is in the canner. Push it down against the side of the jar just as soon as you take the jar out of the canner. When ready to open, push the lower bail up and the upper bail down, then pull the rubber out with pliers or run the sharp point of a knife under the rubber, but remember moving the knife up and down may chip the jar or lid.
